School Street Rules Update

The previous rules that I submitted to Acton Recreation department for School Street Fields have been updated with limits on noise levels. I took some sound readings of several glow airplanes at Medfield. The maximum readings were about 85 dB(A) at 20 feet. The limit that I submitted to Acton

Rec department was 87 dB(A). Incidentally, I measured the noise of my 60" ExtremeFlight Slick 580 (approximately 1500 watts on 6S using a 16x7 prop), and at full throttle, the noise level was also approximately 85 dB(A).

The submitted rules do not say anything about flight lines. Because there are no physical pilot stations set up, it is easy to start landing (and flying) close to where people are parked and standing. If you are flying at School Street, please use a flight line that leaves plenty of space between the aircraft and cars and people. I suggest a flight line at least 25 or 30 feet from the cars and "pit" area.

August Meeting at School Street

Please remember that our monthly meeting on the 17th will be at School Street due to conflict at Davis Field. We have the whole day reserved, so please come out early and enjoy.

Changes in the RES Competition

We are changing up the RES contest this year to include more friendly competition. We are going to add in electric RES sailplanes with a soaring circuit set to 100 meters. With two classes, 2 meter and unlimited, this will be a great way to include everyone. At this weekends Soar-in we experimented with Al Marshall using a Radian set to 150 meters. That height beat many of the winch launches with full house carbon ships so 100 meters is about the same elevation of RES planes unless of course you can launch a plane like Mark Drela. Not many of us can. Have you seen his bubble dancer lift off...amazing.

Back to subject. Al and Dave are building a sign up page, so if you want some fun before school starts, come to the RES. I'm submitting the sanction this week. If you want to help out or be the CD or co-CD make your voice heard.

David Spielman

An update, the sanction has been approved

Refreshments will be included in the entry fee. We will order out lunch. Fee for the Day is $15
